Friday, September 4: Warren Miller presents Playground

Warren Miller's Playground, the largest action sports film on the planet, is coming to kickoff the winter sports season. Presented in stunning high definition, Playground chronicles extraordinary winter sports action and cinematography from Sweden, Japan, Dubai, Alaska and more. Warren Miller movies are an experience, a party and a phenomenon not to be missed.

Friday, September, 11: Transworld Films presents Team Shoot Out

Transworld's Team Shoot Out had four of the best teams in snowboarding competing simultaneously at four separate, elite resorts across the West – Sierra-at-Tahoe, Northstar-at-Tahoe, Bear Mountain, and Snowmass. Leaking info about the event before it went down was not an option-too much was on the line. Unlike anything else in snowboarding, the all-new Team Shoot Out event focuses on creativity-but not just with the actual riding. The theme for the entire event is creativity itself. As media leaders, Transworld challenged the invited board teams-Burton, DC, Forum, and Rome to produce the ultimate terrain park shoot and document it in video and photos to showcase the visual power and possibility in snowboarding. Like the best riders, park builders, and media pros, the magazine seeks new perspectives. And with the Shoot Out, that's what we aimed for – but we never imagined it would go this far.

Friday, September 18: Standard Films presents Black Winter

The Winter of 2009 will go down in history as one of the most transitional times that snowboarding has ever faced.

Unlike any winter ever before, snow conditions were either the best ever or the most dangerous of all time. Out of these dark times rises Standard Films new High Definition Film: Black Winter... a movie that showcases the unstoppable progressive nature of snowboarding and the insatiable hunger of the riders to put down segments that will stand the test of time... Enter the Black Winter and witness the arrival of the next era of underground shreds Halldor Helgason of Iceland, Torstein Horgmo from Norway, Jason Dubois from Quebec City and Lonnie Kauk of Mammoth Lakes. Heavyweight Andreas Wiig comes aboard this season with his strongest freestyle segment to date. Chas Guldemon, Eric Jackson and Mark Landvik all have their own stories to tell about their Black Winter experience from life changing contest wins to heart pounding avalanches.

Friday, September 25: Level 1 Productions presents Refresh

Never before has the sport of skiing changed and progressed so much, so quickly, as it has over the past decade. With changes in equipment, accessibility of terrain, and most importantly the mindset of some of the world's best athletes, skiing today is not what it once was... An integral part of these recent changes, Level 1 looks back and challenges perspectives of where the sport has come from, and where it's going in their tenth-anniversary offering, "Refresh." Keeping true to their humble roots while exploring every arena that skiing has to offer the Level 1 crew serves up the most diverse ski entertainment to date. New things will never get old- fresh images of big jumps, deep powder, technical urban exploits, steep lines, and memorable terrain park action with a collection of the sport's best and brightest talent.
